

Submitting Race Results to ISDRA

What clubs and race-giving organizations need to send after a sanctioned race

DRAFT 2026-10-08

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

After every ISDRA sanctioned race, the race-giving organization (RGO) sends us the results. We use them to award championship points, update the standings and seed lists, and publish the results on isdra.org.

This guide lists what the results must include, and why. It applies however the race was timed: with RaceWorks, with other timing software, or by hand. Most of it is a matter of being complete and unambiguous; very little of it is about format.

Why the detail matters. Points for one race depend on who entered it, how far they ran and the purse awarded. Those points then feed the standings, the seed lists and the points for later races. A result we have to guess at, or correct after it's posted, can change other drivers' points and standings too. Complete results the first time save everyone that trouble.

WHEN AND HOW TO SEND RESULTS

- When: as soon as possible, and no later than 24 hours after the final heat (ISDRA Sanctioning Requirements and Standards, section K).
- How: by email, to raceresults@isdra.org.
- Format: any electronic format is fine (a spreadsheet, a timing program's export, or a RaceWorks workbook), as long as it contains everything listed in this guide. Please don't send photos or scans of paper results.
- If you timed with RaceWorks, you can simply send the workbook. Check it first against the checklist below, especially mileage and purse.

CHECKLIST

Before you send results, check that they include:

Item	What we need
Classes	Every entry clearly assigned to one sanctioned class (Division, Type, Class, Category)
Groups	For grouped classes, each entry's group: All Breed, Registered Breed or Sportsman
Entries	The full list of entries in each class, including drivers who didn't run, didn't finish or were disqualified
Times	An elapsed time or DNR, DNF or DQ for every entry, for every day
Mileage	The actual miles run, for every class, for every day
Purse	The actual purse awarded in each class, for All Breed and Registered Breed separately, or a clear "no purse"
Names	Spelled correctly, and as close as possible to the name on the driver's ISDRA profile
ISDRA IDs	Optional, and only for current members
Unsanctioned classes	Left out, or clearly marked as unsanctioned

Each item is explained below.

CLASSES

Every result line must belong, clearly, to one of the classes that were sanctioned for your event. ISDRA identifies a class by four parts, often shortened to DTCC:

Part	Meaning	Examples
Division	Adult or Junior	Adult, Junior
Type	The kind of team	Sled, Rig, Bikejoring, Scooter, Canicross, Skijoring
Class	The number of dogs	1 dog, 2 dog, 4 dog, 6 dog, Unlimited
Category	The kind of race	Speed (most races), Mid-distance, Distance

For most sprint races, a short name such as “2 dog bikejoring” is enough, and is taken to mean an adult speed class; add “Junior” for a junior class. The closer you are to the full DTCC, the better.

You can put several classes in one spreadsheet, as long as every entry shows which class it’s in. For example, all the canicross results can share a sheet if each entry is marked men’s or women’s. If instead the class is only shown once, at the top of a sheet or a section, that sheet or section must contain entries from that class only.

The classes in your results must match the classes you were sanctioned for. Changing the list of sanctioned classes after the event (for example, combining or splitting classes) is generally not allowed. It has occasionally been allowed for good reasons such as safety, but only when coordinated with ISDRA, and it’s strongly discouraged.

GROUPS

If a class was run with groups, show each entry’s group:

- All Breed
- Registered Breed
- Sportsman

All Breed and Sportsman are treated as one large group for standings, but Registered Breed is not, and all three are shown separately when results are published on the website.

Results are often sent as separate tables per group, such as “4 dog rig All Breed” and “4 dog rig Registered Breed”. That’s fine, but make it clear that the tables are groups of the same class, not separate classes.

THE FULL LIST OF ENTRIES

Send every entry in each class, including drivers who didn't run, didn't finish or were disqualified. We need the full list to calculate points and to assess fees.

TIMES

For every entry, for every day of the event, give either an elapsed time or one of these codes:

Code	Meaning
DNR	Did not run
DNF	Did not finish
DQ	Disqualified

Every entry needs a time or a code for every day. "Scratch", "-", a blank cell and similar notes are not enough, because each code is handled differently in the points calculation. If a driver was disqualified, a short note on why is helpful here, but the Race Marshal's report is the official record.

Please give times to tenths of a second, or better, hundredths. ISDRA's rules don't currently require it, and whole seconds are accepted, but finer times avoid ties. This matters most in sprint racing.

MILEAGE

Give the actual miles run, for every class and for each day it ran.

Use the distance actually run, not the distance advertised or given on the sanctioning application. Trails are often changed at the event because of conditions or weather, and points are calculated from the actual distance.

PURSE

Give the actual purse awarded in each class, not the amount advertised if it differs:

- the total awarded to All Breed, and
- the total awarded to Registered Breed, if the class had a Registered Breed group.

The amount paid often differs from the amount advertised: for example, a sponsor adds money at the last minute, or not enough teams entered to pay every advertised place.

If a class had no purse, say so. Purse is the item most often left out of results, so we can't tell a missing purse from no purse.

Purses aren't usually awarded to the Sportsman group or to junior classes. The rules don't forbid it, and some RGOs do, but the usual practice is not to award purses to juniors.

A rule many RGOs don't know about. In any class, the purse for the Registered Breed group, or any other group, may not exceed the All Breed purse (Sanctioning Requirements and Standards, section B.4.g). For Registered Breed, the amount for any placing also may not exceed the amount for the same placing in All Breed (Registered Breed Group Standard, section D, paragraphs 1 and 3).

NAMES

Spell every name correctly, and as close as possible to the name on the driver's ISDRA profile. You can look members up in the musher directory.

We match each name to an ISDRA member to award points. Drivers often register under a slightly different name from the one on their profile, such as Kathy instead of Katherine, or a maiden name instead of a married name. Each mismatch takes detective work to resolve, and an unrecognized name can mean a member misses out on points.

ISDRA IDS (OPTIONAL)

Including ISDRA IDs is optional, but it helps. So does simply marking which entries are current ISDRA members.

Names can be ambiguous. One recent race had three entries for "Christine Taylor" and one for "Christi Taylor". Probably not the same person, but an ID, or even a note that one of them is a current member, settles it.

- Include IDs only for current members. Don't include an ID for a non-member, or for a member whose membership has expired.
- To find an ID, search the musher directory and open the member's profile. The ID is the 20-character string of letters and numbers just under the name, in the blue bar. It's also the last part of the profile page's web address.

Screenshot to come: a member's profile page on isdra.org, with the ISDRA ID under the name in the blue bar circled.

UNSANCTIONED CLASSES

Ideally, send results for sanctioned classes only. If your results also include classes that weren't sanctioned, mark clearly which classes are sanctioned and which aren't.

CORRECTIONS AFTER RESULTS ARE POSTED

We check each set of results, and ask you about anything unclear, before we post them. Even so, mistakes sometimes surface later.

Correcting results after they're posted can change points and standings for everyone in the affected classes. It can also change the seed list used later in the season, and with it the points for later races. So:

- please check your results carefully before sending them, and
- if you find a mistake in posted results, tell us as soon as possible. We'll do the same if we find one.

GETTING HELP

For questions about results, or to send them:

Email: raceresults@isdra.org

This address reaches John K. Gates, Data and Technology Manager, who can also be reached by phone at 315-725-1664.

Thank you. Much of this may seem like a lot of detail, but each item helps us put the right points in the right place, and saves everyone corrections later.
